Naperville Writers Group Inaugurates Radio Program

Naperville, IL -- The Naperville Writers Group is happy to announce the inauguration of our radio program, the Writer's Niche. The Writer's Niche airs each Wednesday evening at 5:30 p.m. on WONC, 89.1 FM. Members of the Naperville Writers Group read poetry and prose. Most of the pieces are written by members of the group, but some are special favorites from other writers. Several of the programs include information about the Writers Group itself, including information about our members and our activities in the community. If you are not able to listen to the broadcast Wednesday evening, you still can hear it by visiting http://www.napervillewritersgroup.org/writers_niche.php.

We'd like to thank North Central College, WONC, and WONC's features director, Marissa Nino, for providing us the opportunity to bring our work to the public. Thanks are also due to Joe Larkin, who hosts the program, Earl Merkel, who provided our engineering support, and Webmaster Rich Le Cropane, who makes the programs available on our web site.

Naperville Writers Group is a not-for-profit organization open to all adults. Members develop their writing skills through thoughtful, positive and useful critiques. Our members come from throughout Chicago's western suburbs and range from published, award-winning writers to those seeking an outlet for their interest. Our members write a large variety of genres including memoirs, novels, poetry, creative non-fiction and many more. We welcome visitors to our weekly meetings on the North Central College campus in Naperville. Further information about the Naperville Writers Group is available at www.napervillewritersgroup.org.
