Naperville Writers Group Literary Series Continues With Reading by Rich Le Cropane

June 27th, 7 to 9 pm at Barnes and Noble in Bolingbrook

Naperville, IL – The Naperville Writers Group's next literary evening will feature poet, fiction writer, and raconteur Rich Le Cropane. Le Cropane is a repurposed Navy brat who makes his living writing computer software. While he has dabbled in writing for human consumption since his teens, he began to develop his craft in earnest only after his wife suggested that he "shut up and start typing, already." When he's not bossing computers around, he writes short stories and light verse, and rearranges the outlines of two novels he has in the works. Rich lives in Oswego with his very understanding wife and a brace of uppity cats.

In addition to Rich Le Cropane, members of the Naperville Writers Group will read their prose and poetry, and time will be provided for members of the public to read during open mike.

The event will be held on Friday, June 27th, from 7 to 9 pm at the Barnes and Noble at the Promenade Center in Bolingbrook, 631 E Boughton Road. The public is invited and the event is free. If you would like to read, please arrive early and sign up.

Future Naperville Writers Group events will be held once a month at the Bolingbrook Barnes and Noble. These readings will feature Naperville Writers Group members and other local authors. Each evening will provide open mike time for members of the public to read.

Since its founding in 1987, the Naperville Writers Group has served scores of members of all ages. Members develop their writing skills through thoughtful, positive and useful critiques.
