Naperville Writers Group Literary Series Continues With Reading by Dan Montville

August 29th, 7 to 9 pm at Barnes and Noble in Bolingbrook

Naperville, IL – The Naperville Writers Group’s next literary evening will feature memoirist Dan Montville. He is the father of four sons, one of whom was born with severe disabilities. When Montville retired, he decided to write humorous stories about raising their “special” child. The result is his first book, Disabled Fables. Along the way, Dan picked up several awards including the Robert Benchley Society Award for Humor. Dan was the first amateur humorist to win this prestigious award.

In addition to Dan Montville, members of the Naperville Writers Group will read their prose and poetry, and time will be provided for members of the public to read during open mic.

The event will be held on Friday, August 29th, from 7 to 9 pm at the Barnes and Noble at the Promenade Center in Bolingbrook, 631 E Boughton Road. The public is invited and the event is free. If you would like to read, please arrive early and sign up.

Future Naperville Writers Group events will be held once a month at the Bolingbrook Barnes and Noble. These readings will feature Naperville Writers Group members and other local authors. Each evening will provide open mic time for members of the public to read.

Since its founding in 1987, the Naperville Writers Group has served scores of members of all ages. Members develop their writing skills through thoughtful, positive and useful critiques. Its members come from throughout Chicago's western suburbs and range from published, award-winning writers to those seeking an outlet for their interest. Naperville Writers Group members write a large variety of genres including memoirs, novels, poetry, creative non-fiction and many more. The group welcomes visitors to our weekly meetings on the North Central College campus in Naperville. Further information about the Naperville Writers Group is available at www.napervillewritersgroup.org.
